

SINGLE PITCH INSTRUCTOR & VIA FERRATA INSTRUCTOR

Position

Both a single pitch climbing/rappelling instructor and a Via Ferrata climbing instructor in the Red River Gorge, Kentucky.

What is a Via Ferrata?

Via Ferrata is an outdoor style of climbing in which the climber is secured to a cable system while traversing a cliff face with the aid of iron hand and foot rungs.

Employment Information

This position is LOCATED IN CAMPTON KY. Although the hours will fluctuate between 16-45 hours over 2-5 days per week including weekends, one can expect about 32 hours and 4 days. This position is also seasonal (March 1st through December 1st). Although the position is seasonal, we love employing developing professionals who desire to grow in and with the company throughout multiple seasons.

About Southeast Mountain Guides

Our mission is to help people who want to experience rock climbing or become rock climbers. At Southeast Mountain Guides (or "Southeast"), we believe in connecting authentically with people; therefore our crew is made up of professional, servant leaders who are hardworking team players.

We offer Via Ferrata (cabled climbing system), Guided Rock Climbing, and Guided Rappelling services in the Red River Gorge, Kentucky; a world-class destination for both rock climbing and hiking.

Position Description

What is so great about this position is that there is a multitude of variety but it is all about rock climbing. That makes this position great for individuals that are passionate about introducing others to climbing; and therefore passionate about not only climbing but also the outdoors; and of course, passionate about people. In a normal work week you might be the instrumental person that gets a climbing partnership safely and progressively climbing on their own, but the next day you may be the lifeguard as the Boy Scout Troop experiences their first introduction into rock climbing on our cabled climbing course. This position may be the right fit for you if you are truly desiring to be a part of client's climbing journeys as you connect authentically with each person, all the while living and working in the Red River Gorge, Ky!
